

Self-Guided Tuscany Hiking

Duration: 5 Days/4 Nights (extra night available)

charnes tours
hiking and cycling in italy

Hill Towns of Tuscany

Explore central Tuscany at your own pace as you hike from village to village on peaceful country roads and footpaths. This five-day Tuscan adventure begins in Greve the unofficial capital of the Chianti winemaking region. You ramble through picturesque valleys on your way to the hill towns of Panzano, Lamole, and Radda. Along the way you tour a winery, visit a castle, and spend the night in an 18th century Tuscan farmhouse. In addition to its landscape Tuscany is known for its mouth watering cuisine. Try aged pecorino cheese with fresh pears and a drizzle of Italian chestnut honey. For classic Tuscan fare order a bistecca alla Fiorentina, a Florentine T-bone steak, white cannelloni beans, and a bottle of Chianti. Bring your camera and your appetite, Tuscany awaits.

Day 1 Greve

Greve to San Cresci 4 miles (6 kilometers)

Travel on your own by bus from Florence to Greve (busses every 30 minutes). Check into your hotel. Hike one hour, round trip, to the fortified village of Montefioralle, birthplace of the Italian explorer Amerigo Vespucci. To see more hike to the Romanesque church of San Cresci. Back in Greve visit the Enoteca Falorni Chianti's largest and best wine shop. Buy a prepaid card and sample wines from their automatic wine dispensers. Pair the wine with local cheeses, cold cuts, and breads. Greve has a nice assortment of small restaurants offering traditional Tuscan cuisine. Your hotel is located in the center of town and has a relaxing pool. In the warm months you can eat breakfast al fresco.

The Hike

Day 1: A beautiful loop hike takes you to Montefioralle (a walled hamlet) and the Romanesque church of San Cresci (1 or 2 hours).

Day 2 Panzano

Greve to Panzano 4.5 miles (7 kilometers)

Leave your bags in the hotel lobby. They will be transported to your next hotel and will be there when you arrive. Hike two hours on a quiet farm road past vineyards and olive groves. Today you climb 270 meters (900 feet) affording you beautiful views of the rolling hills. Panzano has an enticing central piazza. Enjoy a light lunch at a café on the piazza. After lunch explore the remains of Panzano's castle, do an optional hike, or just relax by the hotel pool. Italy's most famous butcher, Dario Cecchini, lives in Panzano and runs an exceptional restaurant called Solo Ciccia. The food, ambiance, staff, and prices are great. It will be certainly be high on your list of your best meals in Italy. Solo Ciccia is a steak house, but offer vegetarian dishes as well. Reservations and a big appetite are strongly encouraged (dinner at Solo Ciccia not included).

Hotel

Villa Sangiovese
Panzano (1 night)
This three-star hotel is situated on the main piazza and features a beautiful pool with a panoramic view.

The Hike

Day 2: A scenic uphill takes your through vineyards and olive groves on your way to Panzano (2 hours).

Day 2 Optional Hike: A loop hike leads to the Pieve di Panzano, a 12th century church (1.5 hours).

Day 3 Lamole

Panzano to Lamole 3 miles (5 kilometers)

Check out of your hotel leaving your luggage behind. It will be moved to your next stop in Lamole. Follow an unpaved farm road along a ridge, passing a working goat farm. The goats provide milk for Tuscany's creamy caprino cheese. Your hike ends in the small village of Lamole. Lamole sits on a natural terrace high in the Greve river valley. When you reach the village at 600 meters (2,000 ft) above sea level you have magnificent views of Panzano, Greve, and the Chianti hills. Tonight you are not in a hotel. Instead you stay in an 18th century Tuscan villa. An optional hike takes you higher to Monte San Michele, a national park with views of the Arno River valley. Lamole is well known for its restaurant, Il Ristoro di Lamole. We will make a dinner reservation for you (dinner not included). The sunset from the restaurant patio is simply sublime. The restaurant also has a small grocery store where you can stock up on supplies.

The Hike

Day 3: Hike uphill along a peaceful farm road following a ridge. Later zigzag through woods before arriving in Lamole (2 hours).

Day 3 Optional Hike: A loop hike takes you up to Monte San Michele where thick woods give way to spectacular vistas. (3 hours).

Day 4 Radda in Chianti

Lamole to Radda in Chianti 6 miles (10 kilometers)

Leave your suitcases behind and head down the farm road for Volpaia, a fortified village on a hillside. This small medieval hamlet has been meticulously restored and sits off the beaten tourist path. In Volpaia enjoy a winery tour with a guided wine tasting. The town boasts two superb restaurants as well as a café for snacks. Explore the maze of narrow stone streets that zigzag through the village. After a leisurely lunch continue your hike to Radda. You spend the night in a 15th century palace that has been lovingly transformed into a four-star hotel. Less touristy than other Tuscan hill towns, Radda is the perfect place to wind down after four days of hiking.

Want to hike more?

Add a fifth night and hike from Radda to Gaiole. Stay at the five-star Castello di Spaltenna. The hotel is located in an ancient monastery and has a pools and a spa.
